

WAC – GENERAL
PROGRAM INPUT FROM PARTICIPANTS AND GENERAL PUBLIC

It is the policy of the Watershed Agricultural Council to consider input from program participants and the general public with the goal of improving both WAC programs and their delivery. In order to achieve this goal all input received in writing from participants and the general public will be reviewed and considered.

Council Guidelines

1. All input received in writing will be referred to the WAC Policy Committee and/or the appropriate program committee for consideration.
2. The individual/organization submitting the input will be advised in writing of the basis for the outcome of that consideration
3. The General Public and/or Program Participants shall be provided an opportunity to present and explain their issues (proposal, concern or application).
4. Participants shall not be present during the vote(s) pursuant to these issue(s).
