

Croton Trees for Tribes Application Watershed Agricultural Council

Program Information

Riparian (streamside) buffers are a major component to maintaining healthy streams and water. The Hudson River Estuary Program's (HREP) "Trees for Tribes" initiative offers free trees and shrubs for establishing, enhancing, and restoring riparian forest buffers in the Hudson River Estuary Watershed. The Croton Chapter of Trees for Tribes was established in 2011 to implement Trees for Tribes projects in the Croton Watershed of the New York City Water Supply.

Applications for Spring planting projects should be submitted by February 1, and for Fall projects by July 1. Scheduling a field visit is required prior to application submission. Applications will be selected competitively and applicants will be notified by mail of their selection status. Non-winning applications will be immediately provided to the Hudson River Estuary Program at the New York State DEC office in New Paltz to be included in their application pool.

Mail application to:
Watershed Agricultural Council
1275 Hanover Street
Yorktown Heights, NY 10598

Project Information

I have contacted and organized _____ (#) volunteers for this project. Please describe who these volunteers will be:

I am requesting assistance from WAC staff to organize volunteers.

Describe the educational merits and details of the project:

Landowner (Project Location) Information

Name

Preferred Mailing Address

Town State Zip

Telephone

E-Mail

Project Leader Information (if different from above)

Name (only if different from above)

Organization/Affiliation

Preferred Mailing Address

Town State Zip

Telephone

E-Mail

Signature

I agree that WAC or HREP staff shall be granted access to project site to periodically inspect and monitor plant material.

I agree not to cut, remove, mow or otherwise disturb vegetation, including but not limited to trees and shrubs, planted or naturally growing in the project area, unless deemed necessary by WAC or HREP staff.

The person checked below will be the long-term person of contact for the project.

Landowner's signature Date

Project Leader's signature Date

For Office Use Only

Approved Approved by: _____

Denied Project Code: _____

Approval Date: _____